1. The resurfacing of the Pecs-Dravaszabolcs road (highway 64) with concrete was completed by the end of 1953. The new width of the road is nine meters. In addition there are footpaths 1.50 m. wide, on each side of the road. The bridge over the Fekete River was reinforced with concrete.
2. Highway 64 was relocated at certain points.
 - a. The new route is bypassing to the west Szalánta and Turony.
 - b. Farther on, the relocated road passes between Terehegy and Harkány and rejoins the old road north of Dravaszabolcs.
3. In order to divert from Pecs the traffic between Budapest and the Harkány frontier region, a bypass is under construction. It branches off the Pecsvarad-Pecs road near Csokoládé Fuzsita and rejoins the Pecs-Harkány road near Fajnádi Fuzsita (2.5 km. south of Pecs).
4. A new road is under construction between Mánfa and Komló, passing through elevation 230.
